Welcome back to another new year with Paratus Clinical, where we have already begun kicking goals. We have successfully moved in to our new corporate headquarters which include a centralised recruitment team in Chatswood, NSW. In the last 12 months, we have also introduced a new role of a Recruitment Lead. The Recruitment Lead coordinates the recruitment of all our vaccine trials by managing a team of Recruitment Specialists (essentially a high volume call centre) to ensure study recruitment targets are met. In the past year, we have also conducted studies ranging over 24 therapeutic areas many of which are still ongoing. Our participant feedback have also just been released, be sure to read their thoughts!
